How to study with this guide

1 Watch one chapter of the video. For every word you hear the meaning, the Korean word twice, and a real example sentence.

2 Read the same chapter here. Say each word and its example sentence out loud.

3 Do the chapter review without looking back, then check the answers at the back.

4 Tick a box in the quick reference each time you can recall a word from its meaning.

> Romanization helps you start, but try to read the Hangul. Example sentences use natural polite speech (해요 style) unless they are clearly casual.

Review schedule

| Day 1 | Day 2 | Day 4 | Day 7 | Day 14 | Day 30 |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Learn a chapter (25 words) | Review it with the video | Chapter review again | Quick reference: cover the Korean | Say the examples aloud | Tick the words you still know |

How to read an entry

001 네 ne

EXPRESSION yes

> 네, 저도 커피 좋아해요.
> ne, jeodo keopi joahaeyo
> Yes, I like coffee too.

Polite and neutral; also used to show you're listening.

1 Word number, the Korean word and its romanization. The video reads the word twice.

2 Part of speech and the English meaning.

3 A natural example sentence, its romanization and its translation: the word in real use.

4 A short usage note, when it helps you choose the right word.

CHAPTER 1 · WORDS 001–025

First Words: Yes, No and Survival Basics

첫 단어

001 네 ne

EXPRESSION yes

> 네, 저도 커피 좋아해요.
> ne, jeodo keopi joahaeyo
> Yes, I like coffee too.

Polite and neutral; also used to show you're listening.

002 아니요 aniyo

EXPRESSION no

> 아니요, 저는 술을 안 마셔요.
> aniyo, jeoneun sureul an masyeoyo
> No, I don't drink.

Polite form; casual is 아니.

003 안녕하세요 annyeonghaseyo

EXPRESSION hello; hi (polite)

> 안녕하세요, 저는 민지예요.
> annyeonghaseyo, jeoneun minjiyeyo
> Hi, I'm Minji.

Works any time of day, for hello and good morning or afternoon.

004 괜찮다 gwaenchanta

ADJECTIVE to be okay; fine

> 저는 괜찮아요. 걱정하지 마세요.
> jeoneun gwaenchanayo. geokjeonghaji maseyo
> I'm okay. Don't worry.

괜찮아요 can also politely decline an offer: "No thanks, I'm fine."

005 좋다 jota

ADJECTIVE to be good; nice

> 오늘 날씨가 정말 좋아요.
> oneul nalssiga jeongmal joayo
> The weather is really nice today.

006 있다 itda

VERB to have; to be (somewhere)

> 혹시 펜 있어요?
> hoksi pen isseoyo
> Do you happen to have a pen?

Dictionaries list 있다 as both a verb and an adjective; its opposite 없다 is an adjective.

007 없다 eopda

ADJECTIVE to not have; to not be there

> 지금 집에 아무도 없어요.
> jigeum jibe amudo eopseoyo
> There's no one home right now.

008 주다 juda

VERB to give

> 친구가 이 책을 줬어요.
> chinguga i chaegeul jwosseoyo
> My friend gave me this book.

주세요 (please give me) is the most useful request ending.

009 이거 igeo

PRONOUN this (thing)

> 이거 얼마예요?
> igeo eolmayeyo
> How much is this?

Spoken form of 이것.

010 그거 geugeo

PRONOUN that (thing); it

> 그거 어디서 샀어요?
> geugeo eodiseo sasseoyo
> Where did you buy that?

Points to something near the listener or already mentioned.

011 여기 yeogi

PRONOUN here

> 여기 앉아도 돼요?
> yeogi anjado dwaeyo
> Can I sit here?

012 거기 geogi

PRONOUN there (near you)

> 거기 날씨는 어때요?
> geogi nalssineun eottaeyo
> How's the weather there?

Refers to where the listener is, or a place already mentioned.

013 다시 dasi

ADVERB again

> 내일 다시 올게요.
> naeil dasi olgeyo
> I'll come back tomorrow.

014 진짜 jinjja

ADVERB really; for real

> 진짜 오랜만이에요!
> jinjja oraenmanieyo
> It's really been forever!

Casual-sounding; very common in speech. 진짜요? means "Really?"

015 아니다 anida

ADJECTIVE to not be

> 저는 일본 사람이 아니에요.
> jeoneun ilbon sarami anieyo
> I'm not Japanese.

Pattern: noun + 이/가 아니에요 = "is not ..."

016 좀 jom

ADVERB a little; please (softener)

> 창문 좀 열어 주세요.
> changmun jom yeoreo juseyo
> Could you open the window, please?

Softens requests and makes them sound gentler.

017 저거 jeogeo

PRONOUN that (thing over there)

> 저거 뭐예요?
> jeogeo mwoyeyo
> What's that over there?

For things far from both speaker and listener.

018 저기 jeogi

PRONOUN over there

> 저기 카페에서 만나요.
> jeogi kapeeseo mannayo
> Let's meet at that café over there.

저기요 also means "Excuse me" to get attention.

019 감사하다 gamsahada

VERB to thank; to be grateful

> 도와주셔서 감사합니다.
> dowajusyeoseo gamsahamnida
> Thank you for helping me.

감사합니다 is a bit more formal than 고맙습니다.

020 고맙다 gomapda

ADJECTIVE to be thankful; thanks

> 선물 고마워요!
> seonmul gomawoyo
> Thanks for the gift!

ㅂ-irregular: 고맙다 → 고마워요.

021 미안하다 mianhada

ADJECTIVE to be sorry

> 늦어서 미안해요.
> neujeoseo mianhaeyo
> Sorry I'm late.

For friends and equals; use 죄송하다 with elders or strangers.

022 죄송하다 joesonghada

ADJECTIVE to be sorry (formal)

> 죄송합니다, 제가 실수했어요.
> joesonghamnida, jega silsuhaesseoyo
> I'm so sorry, that was my mistake.

More formal and humble than 미안하다.

023 잠깐 jamkkan

ADVERB for a moment; hold on > 잠깐만 기다려 주세요.

> jamkkanman gidaryeo juseyo
> Please wait just a moment.

잠깐만요! alone means "Hold on!" or "Excuse me, coming through!"

024 화장실 hwajangsil

NOUN bathroom; restroom

> 화장실이 어디예요?
> hwajangsiri eodiyeyo
> Where's the restroom?

Keep going

01 Use five new words in a message or out loud today.

02 Rewatch one chapter of the video before bed, without looking at the screen.

03 Come back to this checklist after a week and tick the words you still know.
